"Post-Election Analysis: What Does It Really Mean?"

The 2008 presidential election marked an historic event in history. President Elect, Barack Obama, won the presidential campaign on Tuesday, November 4, 2008. This 47-year-old first-term senator from Illinois forged a broad, multiracial, multiethnic coalition. His victory was a leap in the march toward equality. This forum is designed to analyze the election results and discuss the impact on the U.S. domestic and foreign policy, and the impact this election will have on our local communities. This intergenerational dialogue is open to the public.
